Commission Denies 'Little Reno' Bid

Attorney Joe Farish of West Palm Beach appeared before the city commissioners Wednesday on behalf of unknown clients who were protesting a city ordinance which provided for the closing of bars at midnight on week nights and one o'clock on Saturdays.

Farish said his clients which included bar owners and others felt that this measure was "discriminatory."

The council attempted to determine what the actual shortage was. No one knew exactly. Former commissioner, H. O. Carlton then asked the commission if any emergency order had been drawn for presentation. He explained that interested persons had asked him to find out and determine who suggested the ordinance.

Commissioner Ashley replied, "It's nobody's business what has been drawn until it comes on the table."

Councilman Livingston told the floor to say the labor problem was to be solved by the city which was desperate and getting worse. He said he would like to see anything tried to increase labor. His opinion was a harvesting contractor was that he wanted to see a more liberal policy toward labor. He said he didn't advocate another "Reno, Nevada," but he said an emergency ordinance should be passed. "Then," he said, "if isn't helping to relieve the labor shortage, I would be the first to come forward and ask that it be revoked."

Livingston mentioned that a migratory labor commission had been established to investigate the situation and bring forth plans. Discussion followed in which Councilman Ingalls said, "We have got too many commissions now. That's what's wrong!"

The crowd present at the time of the meeting was estimated to be about 100. Councilman Ingalls said that he had been told that the commission was not working a full week. Because of this, the commission was actually needed to be re-elected.

1. Farmers planted unusually early this year continuing a tendency to plant earlier than normal. Labor crew are still working with crops to be harvested in the eastern seaboard state.

2. Last year the demand for labor on the east coast was light and it was possible to recruit labor from there. This year eastern farmers also need labor at this time.

3. In addition to vegetable crops in the north cotton harvesting is behind in Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia. Forces still have work there.

Because of these three reasons it is possible to recruit labor in any appreciable number until now. McClelland estimates now indicate that the shortage here could well continue through next week.

MORE GMC TRUCKS SOLD IN NINE MONTHS THAN LAST YEAR'S SALES

More GMC trucks were sold in the first nine and a half months of this year than during all of 1954, according to R. C. Woodhouse, general manager and sales manager for GMC Truck and Coach Division.

He said GMC's domestic sales from January to mid-October reached 69,276 units, compared with 67,626 for the entire 12-month period last year.

"This achievement gains added significance when it is understood that new model GMCs did not reach dealers in volume quantities until May of this year, and GMC was about 5,000 units behind last year's sales during the first four months," Woodhouse explained.

"Now that four-month sales deficit has been wiped out and GMC has surpassed the 1954 sales total with more than two months left in this year's sales effort."

The sales manager said a sharp increase in retail deliveries in the first half of October sent this year's sales surging past the 1954 mark. During the first part of the month, sales were 66.2 per cent higher than in the same period a year ago.

He attributed the increase in demand for GMCs to the revolutionary new styling features and engineering advancements embodied in the new "Blue Chip" line of GMC trucks.

October Gas Tax Is $6,411,288 On State Sales

Gasoline sales in Florida during the month of September totaled $1,979,174 gallons and the tax collected by this office during October on these September sales totaled $6,411,288. (This is $534,702 gallons and $598,603 less than the previous month. However, September is always a low month for gasoline consumption in Florida, due primarily to a lessening of travel because of school openings here and in other states, September being between tourist seasons.)

Overall, gasoline sales continue to follow the pattern of the first three months of this fiscal year of a steady increase—the sales for this September increasing almost 15 per cent over the sales for September of the previous year, 1954. Tax collected during October on September sales amounted to $326,435 more than the $3,584,852 collected during October, 1954.

The increase in tax collected the first four months of this fiscal year over the same four months of last year totals $3,281,640, a 13.3 per cent increase. (1954: $23,550,942; 1955: $27,132,582.)

Ende County, with 17,117,342 gallons and a tax of $1,198,213, continues to lead the counties in gasoline consumption and tax collection.

The tax collected in October on September sales in Palm Beach County amounted to $257,112.73 of which $89,100.99 was returned to the County.

Larry Harris: "Man, that last quarter must have lasted at least an hour. I thought time would never run out."

Kenneth Perkins: "Well, Louis, how does it feel to be a hero?"

Louis Friedman: "I don't know about this hero business, but it's a good feeling to break out into the open all alone with the ball and plenty of running room."

Leon Thickett: "Speaking of running room, that severe in the last part of the third quarter really caught Pompano flat-footed."

Coach Ouellette: "What are you crying about, Johnny?"

Johnny Miller: "Coach, I'm just thinking about what is going to happen to those poor Pahokee boys. Thanksgiving if we play like we did tonight."

Coach Gowlin: "Wayne, you don't look very happy. Aren't you glad we won?"

Wayne Mock: "I'm glad we won, Coach, but I don't enjoy it very much. I only got hurt one time."

Donald Tanner: "That was a nice catch you made on that interception, Willard. How did you do it?"

Willard Garrett: "I just looked up and there was the ball, I had to catch it. If I hadn't it would have hit me in the head!"

More Modern Than Mistletoe

The Christmas turkey is growing plumper every day, and there's a new Christmas in the air that fairly shouts the holidays are on their way. Bright bells will soon be ringing on the roof tops, and already Mother is scurrying around making big Christmas decorations to dress up the house for the holiday season.

She may take her cue from the magic of snow by using sparkling white foam plastic in all its varied shapes. The versatile decorative material can be easily made into eye-catching centerpieces, door-pieces, tree ornaments and many other things that reflect all the gaiety and joyousness of the holiday season.

Perhaps she'll make a Kissing Ball like the one shown. It's so easy to do, and fun besides. Just take a plain snowball of plastic foam, about 6 inches in diameter, and cover it very lightly with glue. Use one of the special plastic foam glue available in all variety stores. Cut two pieces of red satin ribbon, 14 inch wide, each long enough to go completely around the ball; fasten in place with straight pins so that the ball is quartered.

Pin star sequins in place at random over the ball. Glued paper stars may be used if sequins are not available. At the bottom of the ball fasten a few strings of prepared princess pins or mistletoe.

Finally, insert a ball of pipe cleaner bent to form a loop at center top of the ball, and attach to this a length of ribbon for a hanger. Make a separate bow of the ribbon and attach at top of ball to cover pipe cleaner and add the finishing touch. Hang the finished Kissing Ball from a ceiling light fixture or in a doorway or archway to spark the Christmas fun.

Dodge Contest To Make All America
"Safety Conscious"

Designed to "Make America Safety Conscious," a startling contest which will provide four motorists a new car every year for the rest of the life will be inaugurated Oct. 31 by Dodge Division, Chrysler Corp.

In support of the National Safety Council's accident prevention program, contestants will be chosen from various sections of the country in the greatest "giveaway program" ever offered the motoring public.

Purpose of the contest is to promote public safety on the highway, and to reduce the number of accidents that has appalled highway and automotive industry officials alike. Jack W. Minor, sales manager in charge of Dodge advertising and merchandising, said that winners will be named on the basis of the knowledge of driving and safety principles. Rules of the contest are simple. Applicants must be 21 or older, and must possess a current driver's license. Registrations, of three to ten word safety slogans, may be made at any Dodge dealer from Oct. 31 to Nov. 28. Slogans will be forwarded to the impartial contest board for selection.

Beginning Nov. 12, and continuing for four weeks, three different applicants, selected on basis of his safety slogan, will be flown to Los Angeles each week, all expenses paid, and will appear on the Lawrence Welk show (ABC-TV Saturdays, 8 to 9 p.m., EST).

Bert Parks, popular master of ceremonies of Dodge's "Break the Bank" program, will act as quizmaster. The winner will be awarded a new car every year as long as he lives. The two other contestants each week will receive a new 1956 Dodge hardtop.

The contestants who appear on the Welk show will be asked the questions prepared by the National Safety Council, Miami explained. A "push-button" tabulator will record the contestants' answers which will be visible only to the television audience.

"In company with every responsible citizen and officials of the National Safety Council," Minor said, "we of the automotive industry are vitally concerned about highway accidents. We believe that through this contest we will concentrate public attention on President Eisenhower's recently announced safety program, and will help make all America really safety conscious."

Driver Training Gets
Boost During Clinic

Florida's $900,000 fund for high school driver education received a "shot in the arm" Nov. 7-8 with Driver Education Audio-Visual Clinic at the University of Florida.

Some 23 educators and law enforcement officers came from all parts of the state to view and evaluate some 69 movies and filmstrips. It was the first step toward adding a driver education section to the visual library of the General Extension Division of Florida in Gainesville.

Clinic participants rated the materials in five categories, from "A," absolutely essential to the driver education program, to "E," of least value to the program.

Movies and filmstrips rated "A" to "C" will be purchased by the General Extension Division as soon as possible. These together with some 25 films and filmstrips donated by firms and organizations across the nation, will form the nucleus for the library section on driver education.

The materials will then be made available to high school driver education programs on a state-wide basis.

The two-day evaluation clinic was conducted by the Extension Division in cooperation with the State Department of Education.

NEW ACCIDENT RECORD
POSSIBLE THIS YEAR

Florida has two months left this year, months in which 200 persons lost their lives in traffic crashes last year.

The death rate at the close of tabulations Oct. 31 showed figures 23 deaths below a comparable 10 months last year, with some hopes of the state coming through the year with fewer highway deaths than last year.

Patrol Commander H. N. Kirkman said if the current trend continues "we stand an even chance of winding up with fewer highway deaths than last year."

He pointed to Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, and warned that "everyone will have to do a little more than his share" if we accomplish a new record by reducing the figure.

According to patrol figures,

89 persons died last November while 114 were killed in highway crashes in December 1954.

The Limpkin, which is almost extinct in Florida may be seen at Highlands Hammock, Hillsborough River, and Myakka State Parks. At Manatee Springs State Park near Chiefland one has become fairly tame and may be seen near the boat dock at the swimming area.

Palm Beach County is growing at a rapid pace. Roads and Bridge programs must be expanded. Continued appropriations to find more successful ways to eliminate beach erosion are necessary. The Everglades Experiment Station is doing a fine job in assisting agricultural programs in the area.

Further research and promotion is needed for Ramin which looms as a great revenue producer for the future.

We need more year round payrolls in the form of light, clean industry.

Sonny's Sleeping Troubles

It wasn't time, but mother said, "Go wash your face and run to bed." I was too cross to say my prayer. I thought, for once, God shouldn't care.

The room was dreary, dark and lone. I heard the nearest elm tree groan. I thought I heard the bold wind say, "Poor Sonny Jones forgot to pray."

I pulled the covers up real tight. Trying to sleep in all my fright. I closed my eyes and counted sheep.

But even then I could not sleep. Matthew 18:1-14. I heard the nearest elm tree groan. I thought I heard the bold wind say, "Poor Sonny Jones forgot to pray."

I pulled the covers up real tight. Trying to sleep in all my fright. I closed my eyes and counted sheep.

Think This Over . . . Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving, let us shout for joy unto Him with psalms. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all Gods; in whose hands are the depths of the earth, the heights of the mountains are his also. Time is His, He made it; His hands formed the dry lands. O come, let us bow down and bend the knee before the Lord, our Maker, for he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the flock of his hand.

Those shall love the Lord, thy God, with all thy might, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul. In truth, the Lord of the universe is our redeemer. Only for God, whose soul wait in stillness; and from Him comes my hope. He alone is my rock and my salvation.

Let us praise God with this symbol of joy and thank Him for the blessing of the past week, for life and strength, for home and love and friendship, and temptations, for the happiness that has come to us out of our labors . . .

Happy are they who are upright in their way, who walk in the law of the Lord, happy are they who keep his commandments, that seek Him with a whole heart.

Rev. Scott's talk was based on "The Game of Life." In his talk, he compared one's life to a game of golf, which was very lively and interesting. After this speech, Mrs. Erol Mixson, supervisor of the Rambler, spoke to the students on their conduct in the Rambler. Later the assembly was opened to questions from the floor, about the rules of the Rambler. Mr. Hobson made the regular announcements and the assembly was adjourned.

A Bucket Full Of Christmas Ideas

The whole family can "get in the act" to make this unusual and easy Christmas decoration. A ball which comes with 25 pounds of a controlled sand detergent now contains a complete pattern-de-Santa. On one side of the ball, 25 inches by 38 inches, are stamped the right pattern pieces and complete directions for putting Santa together, and directions for painting in eyes, eyebrows, nose, mouth, and beard are plainly marked. The ball and pattern, some bright paper, scissors, and a pot of paint are all you need.

The reverse side of the sheet shows six specific ways Santa can be used as a Christmas decoration. Here is a perfect container for a gift. What to do with Christmas cards? Use Santa. Need a sheet suggests a red paper wrap-around, blue eyes, a red nose, white whiskers, eyebrows, and cap.

Christmas-entitled Big Sister or Junior home on vacation can join in the fun and have Santa ready in a jiffy. Even Dad-with-a-knack could help Mom with this decoration and enjoy it.

Approved Referendum Means Greater Benefit In Retirement System

A provision for survivor's benefits in advantages of the proposed integrated social security system if it is approved in a referendum not yet set by the Governor, a University of Florida economist has pointed out.

Edgar S. Dunn, Jr., Associate Professor of Economics, writing in the latest issue of Economic Leaflet, published by the Bureau of Economic and Business Research, lists five advantages to those affected if the people approve the integration of the Florida State Retirement System with the Federal Social Security Act in the referendum.

The system would also allow employees to take transferable benefits to new jobs, older employees to build up retirement eligibility faster than under the state plan alone and provide a hedge against inflation within the plan, he said.

The changes would affect more than 85,000 persons as of this year, about 32,000 state and county officers and employees, and about 33,000 teachers now under their own retirement system.

"One of the most attractive features of integration with social security is the survivor's benefits which are not available or feasible to provide under a state system," Dunn wrote.

"These benefits are very troublesome to administer, and almost impossible to finance on a state level."

However, Dunn pointed out that social security members could begin receiving benefits three years earlier if a retroactive provision is inserted by amendment to the legislation.

He said state employees could receive payments from July 1, 1956 instead of 1959 or later if the legislature makes the move in the 1957 session.

SWAMP BUGGY DAYS ARE CELEBRATED BY NAPLES

The slick resort community of Naples on the West Coast is taking on the atmosphere of a frontier township at the turn of the century. What with the queens dressed in calico and sunbonnets and the men folk sporting sideburns and whiskers. All this to do is because of the annual Swamp Buggy Days held every year.

This year Swamp Buggy Days will be held Nov. 11, 12, and 13. This unusual event commemorates the beginning of the hunting season. At this time those in the area prepare their buggies for the rough riding thru the Everglades in pursuit of game. The races give the buggy owners an opportunity to test their grotesque vehicles and to show off their hunting dogs and equipment. Then too, it's lots of fun. A mile of mud is prepared on the outskirts of Naples and the swamp buggies race against each other over the difficult course.

Every year the men of Naples are forbidden to shave for several weeks prior to the race. Violators to the unwritten law are fined and placed in the Swamp Buggy jail—a portable contraption that is hauled thru out the community so that all may see the clean shaven offenders.

This year Swamp Buggy Day itself will be held on Sunday, Nov. 13. On the 11th and 12th there will be turkey shoots, dances and parades. Queen of Swamp Buggy Days will also be selected. Contestants from all over Florida have already applied for entrances in the lots of spectators and expected too, but are warned—wear your oldest clothes!

For '56
New Sweep-ahead styling
New Sizzle to match

WHAT you see pictured here is Buick for 1956—and from the gleam of that "V" grille to the sassy slant of the tail fins, you can see it has no equal for gorgeous good looks.

But what you see from the curb is fully matched by what you feel at the wheel—and that's gospel. For this Buick gets its zoom from a mighty 322-cubic-inch V8 engine lofted to a new record high in power and compression—and from a spectacular new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

What's new in the '56 Dynaflow is this: in the first inch of pedal travel—and not with wide-open throttle—your Buick moves from standstill to cruise with silk-smooth, instant and certain getaway.

But comes a sudden need for safety-surge action to get out of a tight spot—and you floor the pedal to switch the pitch of this airplane-inspired transmission. Instantly and smoothly, you're at full-power acceleration—a thrill beyond words.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM.

RAMS "DOOD IT"

The Rams put up a rock-solid ground defense but allowed Pompano to complete several long passes, Pompano drew several offside and backfield-in-motion penalties which nullified their passing game.

Late in the third quarter the Pompano passer was hit hard as he attempted to throw and the ball fell into the arms of Willard Garrett. Belle Glade picked up a first down to the Pompano 30. On the next play Leon Burkett took a handoff from Larry Harris on a beautifully executed reverse play and, circling for a TD, Burkett kicked the extra point and Belle Glade led 13-6 at the third quarter ended.

After a few solid tackles by Johnny Miller, Willard Garrett, Leo James, J. C. Wernick, Charles Royals and Ken Peck, the Pompano attack seemed to run out of gas. Belle Glade wisely chalked up its seventh point lead as Husk ran out the clock with straight line plays and quarterback sneaks.

It's The Law

HOME BUYERS

John and Mary had found their "dream house", but had heard so much conflicting advice on the procedure of buying a home that they were most afraid to make a down payment. Accordingly they paid a visit to their family lawyer. Some of the precautions he gave them were as follows:

1. How much is the house to cost and what are the terms of payment?
2. Exactly what property, real and personal, is included?
3. When is the purchaser to have possession?
4. Is the seller to furnish marketable title?
5. What kind of deed must the seller give?
6. Who will furnish and pay for title insurance of the abstract of title?
7. What mechanic's liens exist against the property?
8. Are there unpaid real estate taxes or special assessments, and if so, who pays them?
9. Are the improvements actually located on the lot and do they conform under any restrictive covenants?
10. Are there any easements or restrictions on the property?
11. How much insurance is in force and how is it to be protected?
12. Who will furnish a survey of the boundary lines of the lot and a termite inspection of the house?

Just like people, every piece of land is different and the sale of each must be treated differently from any other. Therefore, no two sale agreements can be the same. Realizing this, John and Mary asked their family lawyer to prepare an agreement to purchase just for them.

John and Mary were wise to have their agreement carefully prepared, but many a purchaser has signed away his rights, without making a thorough check first to see that the purchase agreement protected him.

Ft. Pierce-Miami Turnpike Proceeds

The Florida State Turnpike Authority has announced that contractors are excavating, piling and leveling dirt on 80 miles of the 110-mile Miami to Fort Pierce turnpike with contracts let for 20 more miles and bids for the last 10 miles to be received within 30 days.

To date contractors have moved over two million cubic yards of dirt into the turnpike roadway at the rate of 350,000 cubic yards per week. This rate is expected to increase to a million yards weekly when work reaches its peak.

Contractors are expected to start the 20 miles now under contract, mostly in Broward County, within 30 days. This provides adequate time to secure necessary right-of-way thru this section of the turnpike. The Turnpike Authority start work until right of entry or right-of-way has been obtained. Little difficulty has been experienced in this regard.

Authority Chairman Thomas D. Mitchell said. First roadbed and limberock base bids were received Nov. 3 for a 10-mile section in Martin and Palm Beach Counties where grading, draining and fencing are nearing completion. Bids have been asked for 10 miles in Palm Beach, Martin and St. Lucie Counties.

Of these, six will carry the turnpike over roads and canals. Two will carry side roads over canals and two others will carry side roads over the turnpike.

Final bids for the completion of all phases of the construction work on the turnpike are expected to be received by the middle of February 1956 with the toll superhighway scheduled to be completed by the end of 1956.

VEGETABLES LEAVING MANY FLORIDA MARKETS

"We expect the tomato season to get off to a good start," Manager M. E. Williams of the Fort Pierce State Market announced. Growers have enjoyed good growing weather and fields are looking exceptionally good. Starting with light supplies for the opening week volume movement is expected by mid-November.

"The Fort Pierce Market is one of our big tomato markets. More than a million field crates moved last year with gross sales exceeding $3,700,000 and with good weather conditions we are looking forward to a successful fall season there," L. H. Lewis, Director of Florida State Farmer's Markets added.

"Heavy volume of string beans is expected on the Fort State Market this week, along with good supplies of mixed vegetables and citrus. Cucumbers are of excellent quality and the prevailing light weather conditions have effected previous weeks. Bean prices showed quite an improvement over last week, but prices declined on other commodities. Gross sales totaled $29,258.95 for 12,798 units," according to Manager Sandy Anderson.

"All commodities at Plant City State Market show an increase in volume, though prices are low and unsatisfactory. Yellow squash continues volume lead and okra leads in price, averaging $7.04 per hamper. Volume movement of all items the past week totaled 9,283 packages grossing $16,295.23."

Manager R. N. Beville reported. Though volume is steadily increasing in Fort Myers State Farmers Market area, Manager Henry Witte, Jr., fears "The very low level prices on all items may cause some abandonment of crops if prices do not warrant harvesting. Excellent quality cucumbers led in volume averaging $1.87 per bushel with pickle cucumbers averaging $3.05 per bushel, and squash and eggplant averaged less than

$2.00 per bushel. Volume of all items last week totaled 6,897 bushels, grossing $15,901.20."

Manager M. V. Meekison laments the "Very satisfactory prices on volume movement of good quality cucumbers on the Wauchula State Market. This item is expected to steadily decrease through November, but the supply of good quality tomatoes and very good pepper and eggplant will continue to increase. Gross sales the past week exceeded $15,901 for 17,948 units."

"Excellent crop conditions prevail in the Pahokee State Market area. We are moving a crop of unexcelled quality beans at present with good demand and price. Corn is moving satisfactorily too. In the near future we shall have an abundance of leafy vegetables," Manager C. M. Todd boasted.

"Rain last week in the Goddard County State Market area proved a big help to the late corn crop. Unless some drastic change in weather occurs, we anticipate a good supply of quality beans this week. Volume last week totaled 577 hampers, grossing $1,347.10," Manager Grady L. Roberts at Quincy.

"Crop conditions are good at Immokalee State Market and volume is increasing steadily. Gross sales the past week exceeded $10,900 for 2,820 packages. Tomatoes led in volume price the past week. Squash, cucumbers and eggplant are in fair supply," Manager T. H. Rivers related.

"The Pompano State Market monthly commodity report for October listed 35,826 units of mixed vegetables valued at $87,529.61. Okra brought the highest average price of $4.97 per hamper with beans and peapods averaging better than $3 per bushel. Limes and avocados were two additional items added to the movement of mixed vegetables," Manager G. B. Hoggan reported.

New Unemployment Law May Affect More Firms

Palm Beach County firms not now covered by the Unemployment Compensation Law are being notified by the Industrial Commission for determining their status under changes in the law, reports C. S. Scott, Field Deputy for this area.

Most firms with as few as four or more workers will be come subject to the law and a three per cent charge against their payrolls, effective January 1, 1956, Scott said. Those with eight or more workers, are presently covered. The Federal Congress made law changes extending the coverage to employers of four or more workers, and the changes were automatically effective under the Florida law, Scott said.

An estimated 20,000 additional employers in Florida will become liable for the 2.7 per cent Florida rate on their payrolls. Scott said the liability is based on the employer's employment in 1955. In general, those who will be subject to the Florida law are:

1. Those having four or more employees in 20 different weeks of this year (1955) or;
2. Those having four or more employees in eight weeks of this year (1955) and a payroll for any quarter in the year in excess of $6,000.

Some types of employment are exempt from the coverage; such as, agricultural worker, domestic or household servants, and insurance agents or solicitors and real estate salesmen or agents whose pay is solely by commission. Scott explains that the payment to the state is made quarterly and is 2.7 per cent of the first $3,000 annual wages paid each employee. The employer also pays to the Federal Government a three tenths per cent charge, which is reported and paid once each year. (Federal liability for four or more coverage will be based on the employing experience for each year beginning in 1956.)

Florida provides an experience rating system by which employers may become eligible for rate reductions in their state payments after 24 months of contributions. The employer is awarded on his experience which consists of a comparison of his total wages paid and the amount paid in unemployment compensation benefits to his former workers who become unemployed through no fault of their own. The scale starting from the 2.7 per cent range changes down to as low as zero, beginning as early as July 1957.

"The sooner employers get established in the Fund, the sooner they will be eligible for rate reduction consideration," Scott points out.

All employers not now covered are required to fill out and return a form sent out by the Industrial Commission, which is legally required in order to determine liability of each employer. Any employer who is not now registered as liable under the existing law, and does not receive a form, can get one by contacting C. S. Scott, Sr., Field Deputy for this area at 907 North Dixie, West Palm Beach, or by writing the Unemployment Compensation Division, Florida Industrial Commission, Tallahassee, Florida.

PROBLEMS COURSE IS OFFERED FOR EVENING CLASSES AT W. P. B.

Effective thinking as applied to personal problems will be treated in a course, Logic 105, being offered in the evening division of Palm Beach Junior College. Donald J. Beuttenmiller of the college faculty is the instructor.

The authors, three professors at the University of Florida, state that "our purpose has been to present material which will have a real impact on the life of the student by developing intellectual skills he can put to practical use in solving the myriad problems which will confront him throughout life."

Under the section Fallacies, neglected aspect, counterfeit evidence, irrelevancies, false presumption and misuse of language will be studied. The study of Deduction will include reasoning from premises, syllogisms, inference and dilemmas. The section on Induction treats truth, probability, evaluation of evidence, evaluating hypotheses, generalizing, statistical concepts and causation. The final section, Subjective Factors, deals with ideals of sound thinking, need-directed thinking, personal point of view, emotions and thinking pitfalls in thinking and improving thinking.

Beginning Nov. 17, classes will meet on the Palm Beach High School campus on 15 Thursday nights from 7:15 to 8:35 o'clock. Three semester hours of college credit may be earned, or the course may be audited for credit.

Those who plan to enroll are asked to contact in advance the office of Adult Education of Palm Beach County Schools, 721 Gardenia Street, West Palm Beach, phone 2-3446.

Don't hurry home from work, warns the AAA. Zero hour for driving is the hour of gloom between sunset and complete darkness. That is the time when it's hardest to see. That's why it's important to take it easy and not hurry.

ON TWO WATERFRONTS—Bud Schulberg, whose screen play for the movie "On the Waterfront" recently was Oscar in Hollywood earlier this year, visits the waterfront at Sunning Springs and Gardens in Sarasota to photograph copies of his new book. The novel is titled "Waterfront" and the lovely Andie who are getting his name on copies are, left to right, Pat MacDonald, Frances Quance, and Barbara Lacey.

Fruited Eggnog Pie For Holidays

A holiday dinner progresses to its desert climax with wonderful fruited eggnog pie. The pie filling calls for commercial egg nog and fruit cocktail, and gains height and airiness with unflavored gelatin. Topped with lightly frothy pastry, this dessert ends the meal on a light note.

Commercial eggnog, a rich blending of eggs and milk, yields a ready-made custard base for chiffon pie fillings. Heavy cream for velvety smoothness and the fruit cocktail interest of diced peaches, pears, pineapples, grapes and cherries are then added. The fruit and custard filling gain lightness of texture through the use of unflavored gelatin. This holiday chiffon pie, despite its beautiful appearance, can be simply made. The crust is easy, too, when one uses a packaged mix.

University Extension Courses Offer Math Refresher Course

"Ideal as a refresher for those who need their high school math, but have become rusty," said Dr. Charles R. Hughes here today of a new mathematics course being offered for correspondence study to Floridians.

Hughes, head of the home study department of the General Extension Division of Florida, announced two additions to the 176 college and high school courses offered in conjunction with the University of Florida, Gainesville, and Florida State University, Tallahassee.

The mathematics course (Mathematics 105 - FSU) has been prepared by Dr. Thomas L. Wade, FSU professor of mathematics.

Similar to an FSU course of the same name and number, it is intended for persons who have taken mathematics at high school, but do not feel themselves ready for college mathematics.

Among the subjects covered in this 24-lesson course are fractions, ratio, proportion, percentages, indirect measurement, graphs, scale drawing, tables and business mathematics.

The second new course is in English literature (English 202). Prepared by David Stryker, department of English, it offers a survey of the great periods, authors and works in 12 centuries of English literature.

Students of this 24-lesson course, which parallels one of the same name and number offered at UF, will be familiarized with selections from the great masters of English, and also with various literary forms such as the tale, the sonnet, the epic and the novel.

Both courses are open to credit and non-credit students. Complete enrollment information is available from the Florida Extension Division, Gainesville.

ation may be obtained by writing Correspondence Study, General Extension Division of Florida, Room 906 Seagle Bldg., Gainesville, Fla.

Mulching

The mulching of plants and plant beds have a great many advantages here, especially during the months when the rainfall is low. During the hot, summer months the mulch keeps down weeds and keeps the hot sun from baking the roots of tender plants.

Only lately, it has been proven that the practice of mulching plants discourages, if does not entirely eradicate, nematodes. These pests do not like dark damp silt to live, and are greatly discouraged when these conditions exist.

There is value in organic mulches that can be incorporated with the soil at the end of the growing season to decay and form humus. These include granulated peatmoss, partly decayed leaves, lawn clippings, cottonseed hulls, and buckwheat hulls. Pine needles, or even excelsior, can be used for mulching purposes, but these should be removed at the end of the growing season and not incorporated with the soil.

It has been brought to the writer's attention that walnut hulls should never be used as a mulch, as they have been proven toxic to plant life. Nor is it practical to use very much peat-moss, as this tends to make the soil have too much acidity for the majority of plants grown in this area.

Bagasse from the sugar mills have proven quite satisfactory for mulching gardens in this area. Also ramie refuse from the ramie mills is being used extensively both for mulching and for humus in the sand on the coast.

In some cases, it is advisable to use a fertilizer in the sand on the coast.

plying mulches, and water thoroughly after application.

During the vegetable harvesting season, when yard help is scarce, it will prove economical, both in time and labor, to apply a mulch around your plants in the garden.

When using grass cuttings as mulch for garden beds, be sure they are thinly spread until dry otherwise, the green clippings will generate heat and have an unpleasant odor. They should be spread in a layer of 1 to 2 inches thick.

Always keep in mind the roots of plants need air, and keep from "packing" the mulch so closely that this element will be eliminated.

Mulching strawberry beds with pine needles not only keeps the soil cool and moist, but keeps the fruit from becoming soiled.

Every day new uses for mulches are being discovered.

Stetson U. Alumni Will See Building Program Progress

New buildings on the Stetson University campus at Deland and at the College of Law in St. Petersburg will occupy the interest of alumni returning for Homecoming Nov. 18, 19, and 20.

The last two of seven residence halls built in the last two years will be open for inspection. The first five units are occupied by men and the two new ones were occupied beginning in September by women. These residence halls cost more than $1,000,000.

On display will be the architect's drawing of the new dining room and student union building. Ground will be broken this year for this structure estimated to cost between $750,000 and $1,000,000, if present plans are carried out.

Law alumni will be particularly interested in plans for a new air-conditioned library and classroom building for the law center at St. Petersburg. An out-of-state friend has made available $250,000 for this building on condition that it be matched in Florida. Preliminary architectural sketches have been completed for this structure.

In a state of the university address before alumni by Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, president of Stetson, he is expected to disclose other plans for both the Deland campus and the St. Petersburg campus before Stetson observes its Diamond Jubilee in 1958.

Stop heavy damage by potato pests

aldrin

Now you can control the heavy damage caused in your potato fields by wireworms, grubs, and rootworms.

Just spray or dust the soil with aldrin. Double the dosage in peat or muck areas. Then harrow the soil immediately, mixing aldrin with 3 to 6 inches of topsoil.

• ECONOMICAL—A single aldrin treatment will last for at least a year.

• KILLS FAST—Powerful and rapid—and you get all-season protection.
